

SENATE POLICIES (Information in this section is for informational purposes and may be found online, as per links provided)

Description	Notes	Who do I contact?... Where can I find?...
Senate Policies	As per the website (secretariat-policies.info.yorku.ca/) The Senate is responsible for the University's academic policy in areas including the establishment of faculty councils; standards for the admission of students, for the curriculum and requirements for graduation; awards; adjudication of appeals of academic decisions and findings of academic dishonesty; and recommendations to the President on candidates for tenure and promotion. Below are some of the frequently used Senate Policies that are handled in the Department of Psychology.	Senate Policies
Student Code of Conduct	York University is a place of research, teaching and learning where people value civility, diversity, equity, honesty and respect in their direct and indirect interactions with one another. Freedom of expression, freedom of association, freedom to study and to learn, freedom to engage in research, and the freedom to write and to publish are all recognized as central to the mission of the institution. It is acknowledged that these values can only be meaningful, and these freedoms fully realized, in an atmosphere of safety and security. All York students have rights and responsibilities as outlined in this document and are expected to uphold the identified values for the benefit of the entire York community.	Code of Rights and Responsibilities
Grading Scheme and Feedback (Policy)	The grading scheme for all courses (i.e. kinds and weights of assignments, essays, exams, etc.) shall be announced, and be available in writing, within the first two weeks of class.	Grading Scheme and Feedback (Policy)
Withdrawn From Course (W), Policy and Guidelines	In the period between the last day to drop a course without receiving a grade and the final day of classes in a term, undergraduate students are permitted to withdraw from a course with the condition that the course enrolment remains on a student's transcript, denoted by a "W" in the University's records and on the student's transcript as the grade decision.	Withdrawn From Course (W), Policy and Guidelines

Limits on the Worth of Examinations in the Final Classes of a Term (Policy)	No examinations or tests collectively worth more than 20% of the final grade in a course will be given during the final 14 calendar days of classes in a term. The exceptions to the rule are classes which regularly meet Friday evenings or on Saturday and/or Sunday at any time, and courses offered in the compressed summer terms.	Limits on the Worth of Examinations in the Final Classes of a Term (Policy)
Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities (Policy)	York University shall make reasonable and appropriate accommodations and adaptations in order to promote the ability of students with disabilities to fulfill the academic requirements of their programs.	Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities (Policy)
Conduct of Examinations (Policy and Guidelines)	The Senate of York University affirms the University's commitment to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity in the examination process, in accordance with the standards and principles established in the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty, the Senate Policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities, the Senate Policy on Sessional Dates and the Scheduling of Examinations and York's Mission Statement.	Conduct of Examinations (Policy and Guidelines)
Academic Honesty	If you suspect a breach of Academic Honesty, REPORT IT! The Undergraduate Psychology Office has an incident report, please fill this out immediately to ensure all details of the incident are outlined. Detailed information about Academic Honesty will be circulated prior to the exam period.	Senate Policy on Academic Honesty Report suspected breach to the UG Office. Email: facpsyc@yorku.ca